

SEARCHING FOR A HOME?

Home Searching Online

Vs

Home Searching in Person

When searching for home, home buyers must know that there are critical differences between the appearance online compared to an in-person visit.

WOW that's big!
Professionals often use special camera equipment to make everything appear bigger than they really are.

It looks NEW! Home features can also appear newer with high quality photo processing.

How Peaceful this looks!
Home stagers are there to make the picture look appealing and peaceful regardless of surroundings.

This feels good! Now why would a seller mention any drawbacks? They are hoping the good will outweigh the bad.

Resulting in... Oh, this too small! Buyers being shocked by the actual size of the home or rooms in person.

What's that odor? Pet odors, mold, or septic tank issues are signs you can only be made aware of in person.

What's all that noise? It's a sound practice to visit the neighborhood at different times of the day.

My neighbor is a hoarder? Only a physical viewing will allow you to see all sides of the property.
